

Juliet Chenery-Robson PhD

Artist, Arts development worker, Editor, Lecturer / academic, Researcher

<https://www.julietchenery-robson.com/>

I met Juliet at the Royal College of Art, London, at a PhD international conference. Juliet gave a talk on her AHRC PhD in photography from the University of Sunderland. Her thesis explored the visual representation of the invisible illness Myalgic Encephalomyelitis (ME). Juliet worked with ME sufferers to create visual and textual portrayals of sufferers' illness experience. I liked the photos she showed at her talk, and some are being shown here at St. Andrew's.

Juliet's life has been much affected by caring for her daughter who suffers from ME. Yet she channeled this into an award-winning creative PhD. My PhD is using my cancer experience as an inspiration to create a prototype for multi-venue performance. We talked at the conference and kept in touch afterwards.

Juliet sent a lot of her beautiful photos to me to make music videos. I have made two:

“WISDOM AND LOVE”

Video: <https://youtu.be/ohLxRZydLXc>

Comments & more: https://www.howaion.co.uk/videos/video_misc.html

“3:10AM”

Video: <https://youtu.be/TeTXnTxTFHk>

Comments & more:

https://www.howaion.co.uk/videos/video_misc3.html#310AM

We talked about our lives and personal difficulties encountered. She is compassionate and empathetic.