

HONG KONG BIRDS

Professor Stephen Matthew 馬詩帆

<https://www.howaion.co.uk/hongkongandme/hkbirds.html>

The link above leads you to Stephen's blog, birds & more.

Stephen is a British linguist in Hong Kong. He is Co-Director of the Childhood Bilingualism Research Centre at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. He is a keen bird watcher/photographer and an amateur musician.

After Cambridge Stephen went to CA to work on his PhD where he met his wife who's from Hong Kong. I first saw Stephen on YouTube, speaking fluent Cantonese (the language most Hongkongers speak and is known to be difficult to learn). I sent a DVD of my PhD to him which concerns Hong Kong Cantonese culture. Stephen told me he plays violin in orchestras. We mostly talk about birds and music. He commented on my music videos, and encouraged me to use birds as an inspiration to write music.