

THEME HONG KONG

Although I live in England, it so happened that I was in Hong Kong staging a performance during the Tiananmen Square incident, and because of my profession I got to know the Hong Kong media including the left wing journalists. I was shown some photos by an editor of a left wing magazine of the happenings in the square that he would not publish, but the horrible sight affected him. I was deeply shocked. I was also moved by the reaction of Hong Kong people to this incident. Knowing that some of them would emigrate to the UK before the hand-over. I staged project “Theme Hong Kong” to promote greater understanding between the two peoples. Apart from creative performing programmes I mounted relevant displays at the Queen Elizabeth Hall and Shaw Theatre foyers, and at the Commonwealth Institute and Redbridge Library. The 2nd leg of the project was staged in Hong Kong's City Hall.

<https://www.howaion.co.uk/photos/themehongkong.html>

Ho Wai-On (Ann-Kay)